FAQs

What's changed?

You no longer are required or able to upload documents into the My Documents section. You will now enter the documents into the relevant question.

Why did this change?

ContractorCheck community feedback has shaped this update designed to make it easier to work with clients and simplify how you interact with the portal and our accreditation / verification teams.

- It connects your document to the question for less back and forth throughout the process.
- You will no longer be required to resubmit the same documentation for each unique client you work with if they address the same requirement.
